We had a prayer service yesterday at Dennis and Cindy's homestead. A hole was dug for the tree, their ashes spread at the base, then covered with the tree.

At the end of the service, we all had a toast using Dewars' from a very special bottle.

When the four of us got together we would bring this bottle of Dewars', write the date on the label and leave it at that persons house. It would be brought to the next get together. The bottle was never opened until Cindy passed. That's when we had the first drink from this special bottle. There were so many dates on the bottle we had to place a pieces of tape to keep adding the dates. Some of the dates you can't even read, my guess is it's at least 35 years old.

Yesterday, we all had a drink including Dennis and Cindy. The bottle is empty Attached is a couple of pictures of the bottle, two glasses, the tree with their homestead in the background.

Hope you are both doing well.
Best regards
